DIPHTHERIA IN M'SHERRYSTOWN

McSherrystown, is in the throes of a threatened diphtheria epidemic, the lower end town, now having five cases. They are not confined to children and in two instances two people in the same home are sick.

A child of A. V. Collins is one of the number; two children of F. J. Lawrence have the disease; and Mrs. George Ratters and daughter are also ill with it.

All of the cases have been reported to the McSherrystown Board of Health and a quarantine was at once placed on all three homes. The houses were placarded and the members of the families who come in contact with the sick will not be allowed to go about the town.

Although efforts have been made to trace the origin of the diphtheria to its source they have not met with success and it is not known how the contagious disease, which has visited so many places in this and neighboring sections, reached the lower end town.

East Berlin also reported diphtheria during the past few weeks and in several other sections of Adams County it made its appearance.

GETTYSBURG INVENTOR

Millard M. Tawney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tawney, of Steinwehr ave., has become an inventor. The story of his success is told in the Harrisburg Telegraph which says:

"George S. Dunkle and Millard M. Tawney have been granted a patent for a new lock-out. The object of the invention is to provide a lock-out that may be applied to any ordinary bolt and that may be removed from the bolt whenever desired without loss of time or injury to either bolt or nut. Lock nuts in use today must either be broken to be removed, with great loss of time, or if removed whole result in destroying the bolt. The inventors have received a number of offers for their patent but are in no hurry to sell."

DR. STEVENSON ---MISS FITZER

At seven o'clock Wednesday evening Miss Rose B. Pitzer and Dr. P. W. Stevenson were married at St. James Lutheran parsonage by Rev. Joseph B. Baker. No one knew anything of the wedding, not even the parents of the bride being told of it until this morning.

Early in the evening the prospective bride and groom started from the Pitzer House to attend prayer meeting at St. James church. They stopped at the parsonage, where the ceremony took place, and then went over to the service. Nothing was said to any one during the evening of the wedding having occurred but this morning about five o'clock Mrs. Stevenson told her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Pitzer, of what had taken place.

Miss Stevenson has always been active in church work at St. James Lutheran. Dr. Stevenson came to Gettysburg fifteen years ago and has made his home at the Pitzer House ever since.

LITHIA SPRINGS IN THE COUNTY

Resident of Near York Springs Has his Springs Examined and Receives Report of Valuable Mineral Water.

An examination of the springs on the farm of Joseph Heikes in Lattimore township made by Colonel Henry C. Demming, State Mineralogist, discloses the fact that the springs contain valuable lithia water. He also found signs of petroleum and specimens of rock suitable for improved highway purposes and for other mixture of cement to make concrete and for railroad ballast. In a letter to Mr. Heikes, Colonel Demming says:

Dear Sir:— On Tuesday, November 1st, A. D., 1910, I made a field examination of the water at the two springs on your property. I found the water that flows from the first spring to the watering trough to be chalybeate in a marked degree with a strong evidence of carbonic acid, minute traces of carbonate of lime and chloride of calcium with probably a trace of lithia. Also there oozed into the spring a very small fraction of an oily substance, closely resembling dilute petroleum.

I also found on the property immense bodies of trap rock of a gabbro-like nature, and probably of the variety known as norite; which would make the rock exceedingly valuable for improved highway purposes, for mixture with cement to make concrete and for railroad ballast.

The water course in the field southwardly from the spring that contains the mineral water substances that I have mentioned, also has chalybeate constituents, although not so marked as at the spring first mentioned.

I believe you would be fully justified in having the water of the first spring visited quantitatively analyzed, with a view to placing it on the market as a valuable mineral water. I think it will prove to be a valuable agent in some human affliction and that when fully tested, its true worth will be made manifest to the public. The well nearly 200 feet northwardly from your residence also has some chalybeate characteristics, but the iron contents is not so large, apparently as at the spring that supplies the water for the watering trough.

If these waters prove to be of the desirable nature that the initial investigation leads me to believe they are, you will have a good supply for market, even in the driest season. I estimate that the two springs, without reference to the well near the residence, will yield 432 gallons every twenty-four hours; and, in ordinary seasons, more than twice that quantity.

Very respectfully,
Henry C. Demming.

AWAIT OPENING OF DEER SEASON

Reports from Caledonia and Other Points on South Mountain are to the Effect that Fleet Animals are Numerous.

The sportsmen who are looking for bigger game anxiously await the dawn of the morning of Tuesday, Nov. 15. For then for two weeks thereafter deer may be hunted and to the sturdy hunter there is no greater delight than the stalking and pursuit of this beautiful and spirited animal.

In this vicinity the neighborhood of Graffenburg and points near Newmans on the South mountain and southerly toward Mont Alto afford the best of this species of game and are the most accessible and convenient hunting grounds.

The famous old inn at Graffenburg has already prepared quarters for more than half a hundred sportsmen from Chambersburg and more distant places and the several mountain camps near the top of the South mountain, established annually, have their advance guards looking over the grounds and preparing for the hunt.

At number of deer frequent the neighborhood of the White Pine sanatorium all the year around and lately many more than usual have appeared in that section. On the lower lands about Mont Alto herds of as many as eight and nine have been seen grazing, at intervals, during the summer. Both bucks and does have visited Caledonia park singly and in companionship during the summer. This week a fine buck was seen leisurely nipping low hanging foliage along the Caledonia creek a short distance below the foot bridge which crosses near the cascade where Birch Run empties.

A few woodcock have been shot in the Caledonia park section and still fewer pheasants. At the mountain foot some partridges have been bagged. Rabbits are still plentiful although much have been made among them the past week. Many squirrels have fallen.

But the great hour is when the midnight clock of the fourteenth strikes and the deer that have been wandering with strange freedom for almost a year will find themselves surrounded by excited men, deadly rifles and whelping urchins all relentlessly turned in for a bloody and killing time.

THIEF SCARED AWAY

Early this morning W. S. Duttera, of Baltimore street, was awakened by a noise at the back pile at the rear of his house. He looked out and saw some one taking back from the pile and putting it into a bag. Mr. Duttera fired low and the would-be thief fled, leaving the bag behind. When Mr. Duttera went to the place he found the bag riddled with shot. He claims that if another attempt is made to take any of the material away he will not be careful about shooting low but will do his best to hit the mark.

MILTON PLANK COMPLIMENTED

The Harrisburg Star Independent says: "One of Harrisburg's best known business men came from Gettysburg, where the big fight took place, but he wasn't in the fight—it took place a few years before he was born. Milton H. Plank, well known in Harrisburg commercial circles, after getting an education at his home in Gettysburg, came to Harrisburg and entered the service of the Adams Express Company, attending faithfully to business and making friends and acquaintances for twelve years, when he was offered a place with the Wells-Fargo Express Company in New York, and thither he went, always on the alert for something new, for he was a young man of ambition and energy, likewise of more than average intelligence."

It was while he was in New York that Colonel W. Hayes Grier, of Columbia, was made Superintendent of Public Printing and Binding, and Mr. Plank was just the man he wanted as chief clerk to keep things moving and make those intricate calculations on State printing that have turned gray the hair of other chief clerks. The young man came over from New York and he served faithfully and well until Colonel Grier retired, when he also went into business for himself. He had picked up a fair knowledge of the wholesale paper business, and he began in an humble way with many competitors. But you can't keep a good man down.

It wasn't long before Mr. Plank was getting big paper contracts along with the best of them, and he made the other contractors sit up and look when he was successful in bidding for contracts for the State and United States government. It was while doing a most successful business along these lines that his brother-in-law, Harry C. Fink, proprietor of Fink's brewery, the oldest establishment of the kind in Harrisburg, died and Mr. Plank was made executor of the estate and general manager of the entire establishment. This was only three years ago, but in that time Mr. Plank has shown that he was the man for the place, his ideas of improvement having been vastly beneficial to a business point of view. As a matter of fact in the three years he has had charge of the brewery he has doubled its capacity, and is constantly adding to its output of what is considered the finest product in the State. He has brought new methods to the long established ones that made the firm famous, and he has employed progressive ideas that have been exceedingly beneficial. At present he is engaged in building a large extension to the plant, so that it will in size be second to none in the State. Mr. Plank is a gentleman of the most courteous demeanor, and that is the secret of his large number of friends. He is very popular with all who know him, has the kind word for those who seek favors, and has galled his friends with hooks of steel. He is a member of the Masonic fraternity, and one of the organizers of the Harrisburg Lodge of Elks. He is also a believer in the future of Harrisburg and he is regarded as one of the city's most progressive citizens.

 Gray Hair Restored. My hair was getting quite gray and falling out rapidly and I was troubled with a terrible itching of the scalp. My head was full of dandruff, which fell upon my clothes and kept me continually scratching it off. While on a visit to Rochester I heard of your Sage and Sulphur for the hair. I got a bottle and used it. A few applications relieved the itching, my hair stopped falling out and gradually came back to its natural color. It is now a nice dark brown color, soft, glossy and pliable. Several of my friends want to use it, and I want to know what you will charge me for six bottles of it.

MINNESOTA REPUBLICAN
 St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 10.—While Republican nominees were going down to defeat before a Democratic landslide elsewhere conditions were reversed in Minnesota, where Adolph O. Eberhart defeated his Democratic opponent, James Gray, for governor by an old-time majority.
 For three state elections the late John A. Johnson, Democrat, carried the state by overwhelming majorities. The latest figures show that Eberhart has been elected by more than 50,000. He carried every county in the state. The legislature is Republican.

HOOPER ELECTED GOVERNOR
 Fusion Candidate in Tennessee Wins by 15,000 Majority.
 Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 10.—Almost complete returns from every county are showing a majority for Ben W. Hooper, fusion candidate for governor, of nearly 15,000. Democrats claim that Senator Taylor was counted out and that they will control the senate. The house is probably in control of the fusionists, but it will require figures to show who will control on joint ballot.

WILSON'S PLURALITY OVER 45,000
 Democratic Landslide in New Jersey Grows.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 10.—The Democratic landslide in New Jersey was the most complete political upheaval which has taken place in the state. Although a Democratic victory had been scented, its magnitude, reaching into every Republican stronghold in the state and overturning in many instances local party governments, had not been predicted by even the most optimistic of Democrats. Even the personality of Woodrow Wilson was not sufficient to account for the Republican slaughter.
 Returns received at the state house indicated that the plurality of Dr. Wilson for governor is nearly 45,000. It would not be surprising if complete returns raised the plurality by another thousand or two.
 The highest plurality ever received by a governor was E. C. Stokes, who carried the state by 51,644 s. e. ears ago. That was the year that Roosevelt received 80,585 plurality. Mr. Wilson received a plurality in fifteen of the twenty-one counties, only four of which have been rated as Democratic since the upheaval of 1895, when the Democrats were forced out of power by the election of John W. Griggs. The Democrats also carried seven of the ten congressional districts.

CALIFORNIA REPUBLICAN
 Insurgents Elected Governor by 15,000 Majority.
 San Francisco, Nov. 10.—California went Republican by 15,000, elected a full quota of Republican congressmen and the legislature will choose a Republican senator in place of Senator Flint.
 But although the party emerged triumphantly from the bitterest campaign seen here in years, it is considerably disfigured, and old line Republicans have the mortification of seeing in the governor's chair one of the most rampant of the insurgents, who will use all his power to advance the interests of his wing of the party.
Rhode Island Republican.
 Providence, R. I., Nov. 10.—Governor A. J. Pothier is re-elected. The vote for governor was: Pothier, Rep., 33,492; Lewis A. Waterman, Dem., 32,589. The Republican majority of 11,769 is thus cut down to 903. The Democrats elected to congress for the first district George F. Shaughnessy, while the Republicans won with General H. Utter in the Second. The next assembly will be deadlocked over the election of a successor to Senator Nelson W. Aldrich.

Honduran Rebel is Expelled.
 New Orleans, Nov. 10.—The noted Honduran revolutionist, Manuel Bonilla, and his American lieutenant general, Lee Christmas, who have been expelled from Guatemala by order of the president of that country, will, it is reported, be placed aboard of the steamer Cartago and will leave Puerto Cortez for New Orleans.

$100, REWARD $100,
 The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. AVIATOR FALLS 2000 FEET
 Hoxey's Engine Jammed During Altitude Flight.
NEARLY TURNED TURTLE
 He Attempted to Glide to Safety, But When Propeller Stopped He Fell With Frightful Rapidity.
 Baltimore, Nov. 10.—Arch Hoxey had a narrow escape while contesting for the altitude prize at the Halethorpe aviation field.
 Seated in the same machine in which Johnstone made his record at Belmont Park, he started off at a rapid gait, making 1000 feet in one lap. In five minutes he reached an altitude of 2000 feet and was then five or six miles off the course. In ten minutes he went up 3000 feet and then disappeared.
 Suddenly Hoxey reappeared, having mounted 5330 feet. Here he felt the engine jamming and concluded to come down. When about 2000 feet from the ground the engine jammed and stopped, and Hoxey started to glide, but had gone only a short distance when the propeller stopped. The 20,000 spectators on the ground saw something was wrong as the machine began to descend with frightful rapidity at an angle of forty-five degrees, the fall being best described as a combined glide and fall.
 Apprehending a fatal accident, some of the women began to shriek and the greatest excitement prevailed. The aviator and his machine disappeared from view about three miles south of the track in the tree-tops and all thought he was killed.
 A number of employees at the track and others at once started out to locate the place where Hoxey fell, and an ambulance was hurriedly dispatched to the scene. The hunt lasted fully fifteen minutes before the aviator was found. He had dropped into a plowed field and almost beside a farmer who was tilling his ground. The machine had struck the ground with great force, throwing Hoxey out and at the same time it turned turtle. The aviator lay for a few minutes stunned, and when he came to appeared dazed. He soon recovered, however, and was none the worse for his experience. The machine, however, is a wreck. The skids were broken, the woodwork was broken and the engine twisted.
 The feature of the day was the cross-country race between Latham, De Lesseps and Drexel, the flight being partly across land and water to Fort Carroll, located in the center of the river, and return, a distance of eighteen miles. Latham, who was the first away, covered the distance in 22.58 minutes; De Lesseps, who followed, made it in 26.15, and Drexel, the last to leave, did the trick in 23.34.

SOCIALIST SPENT NOTHING
 Reading, Pa., Nov. 10.—James H. Maurer, the first Socialist ever elected to the Pennsylvania house of representatives, filed a statement showing that he did not spend a cent to secure his election.
 Mr. Maurer states further that he "did not buy a single beer or cigar" for his constituents, and challenges the other candidates to a "show down" in this respect.
 Maurer promises to contribute a third of his salary to the Berks County Tuberculosis society's work, in which he is greatly interested.
 Maurer is a practical plumber and labor leader, and four years ago was the party nominee for governor. He is an enemy of the state constabulary and will strive to abolish the "Cossacks," as he was the first to call them.

 Seventeen Rescued After Mine Explosion in Colorado.
 Delagua, Colo., Nov. 10.—The bodies of thirty-five men were found in the north entry where the explosion in mine No. 3 of the Victor American Fuel company originated. They are being brought out slowly over the debris, but are not yet identified.
 Reeling from the effects of gas, fourteen miners, imprisoned in the No. 3 mine of the Victor American Fuel company since Tuesday, staggered out of mine No. 2 into the arms of their loved ones, awaiting them at the pit mouth. The rescuers announced that eight more men had been found alive. This number makes the rescued seventeen.

BANKRUPT AFTER HE IS ELECTED
 Congressman-Elect B. K. Focht Fails For $275,000.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 10.—Benjamin K. Focht, of Union county, congressman-elect, filed a bankruptcy petition here. His liabilities are $275,000 and assets $175,000.
 Congressman Benjamin K. Focht is the Republican representative from the Seventeenth district, comprising Franklin, Fulton, Huntingdon, Mifflin, Juniata, Perry, Snyder and Union counties. It is the largest congressional district in the state.
 Congressman Focht is a native son of Lewisburg, where he still resides. He was born in 1863, and was educated at Bucknell college, Pennsylvania State college and Susquehanna university.
 For many years he has been editor and proprietor of a Lewisburg weekly newspaper. During his nearly thirty years of public life he has served for three terms in the state legislature and four years in the state senate. He is the father of the ballot law now in use in this state.
 He was first elected a congressman in 1908. His first term began with the Sixtieth congress.

CLARK PLEDGES TARIFF CUTS
 Revision Downward at Once Declares Democratic Leader.
 Bowling Green, Mo., Nov. 10.—Downward revision of the tariff at once is the pledge made for the new Democratic house of representatives by Champ Clark, congressman from the Ninth district.
 Mr. Clark is the minority leader in the present house and the principal aspirant for the speakership to succeed Cannon.
 The landslide is in line with my prediction of months ago," said Congressman Clark at his home. "The people are tired of the present administration and are provoked to just the extent that the returns indicate, with the tariff reduction."
 "The first and greatest proposition the Democrats should stand for is a reduction in the tariff to a revenue basis. I would reduce it scientifically and gradually and put into it a sliding scale much like there was in the tariff bill of 1883."
 "There is no question but what the Democrats will be on their good behavior in the next congress, and the future will depend largely on our conduct. Democrats now have a golden opportunity for constructive statesmanship and should seize it and demonstrate once more their fitness for legislating wisely and patriotically."

TENER WINS BY 25,500

SOCIALISTS POLLED 15,000

Keystone Leaders Claim Berry Was Counted Out In Philadelphia and Pittsburgh and May Contest the Election.

Philadelphia, Nov. 10.—The plurality of John K. Tener over William H. Berry for governor of Pennsylvania increases slightly as the complete vote by counties comes in. A reasonable estimate, based on the official count, placed Tener's plurality at 25,500, although returns from remote districts may change this slightly one way or another.

The counties of Elk and Snyder, which were missing, made but a small difference in the outcome, since the former gave a small plurality for Grim and the latter added to Berry's tally by 64 votes.

Allegheny county, which has been the surprise of this election, is now piling up a plurality for Tener as the late districts report. His plurality of 5000 on Tuesday night has now been increased to 7900, with some forty of the 666 precincts to be heard from.

In the counties carried by ex-Senator Webster Grim, the Tener and Berry vote ran substantially even, in that the differences of some counties were balanced in others. There appears to be no reason to fear that Tener's final plurality will fall below 25,000, while there is some ground to believe that it may reach 30,000 when all is told.

Berry May Contest.

The Keystone party leaders claim that Tener was not elected at all and that they will have but little trouble in proving fraud at the polls in both Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. The assertion is made by the Keystone people that Berry was elected by at least 70,000 plurality, but that the organization machines counted him out in favor of Tener.

In Pittsburgh preparations are being made to contest the election of Tener at many different points in the state and if possible to secure an entire new count. Several arrests for alleged crooked work at the polling places have already been made in Pittsburgh and more are threatened.

The senate of 1908 had 36 Republicans, 11 Democrats and 3 vacancies. The senate of 1911 will have 38 Republicans and 13 Democrats, the former gaining two votes by filling vacancies.

The state legislature will not be materially changed, although Republicans and Democrats both won several districts.

Another of the surprises of the election was the strength displayed in the western section of the state by the Socialist party. A total of some 15,000 votes were polled, the one material result being the sending of one representative, James H. Maurer, Socialist, from Berks county, to the legislature.

In Northumberland county the Socialists polled 3587 votes, running only a few behind the Keystone party vote and ahead of the other tickets in the field. Unusual strength was shown in Allegheny, Westmoreland and Clinton counties by the Socialists.

Congressmen Elected.

Pennsylvania has elected 22 Republican and 10 Democratic congressmen, a Democratic gain of 7, as follows:

First district, H. H. Bingham, R.; 2d, Joel Cook, R.; 3d, J. Hampton Moore, R.; 4th, R. O. Moon, R.; 5th, Michael Donohue, D.; 6th, George D. McCreary, R.; 8th, Robert E. Dieffenferder, D.; 9th, W. W. Griest, R.; 10th, John R. Farr, R.; 11th, G. R. McLean, D.; 12th, R. D. Heaton, R.; 13th, J. H. Rothermel, D.; 14th, G. W. Klipp, D.; 15th, W. B. Wilson, D.; 16th, J. G. McHenry, D.; 17th, R. F. Focht, R.; 18th, M. E. Olmsted, R.; 19th, Jesse L. Hartman, R.; 20th, D. R. Lefean, R.; 21st, C. E. Patton, R.; 22d, Curtis S. H. Gregg, D.; 23d, Thomas S. Crago, R.; 24th, H. H. Wilson, D.; 25th, Arthur L. Bates, R.; 26th, A. M. Palmer, R.; 27th, J. N. Langham, R.; 28th, Peter M. Speer, R.; 29th, S. G. Porter, R.; 30th, John Daltzell, R.; 31st, J. F. Burke, R.; 32d, A. J. Barchfield, R.

Republican Governor For Michigan.

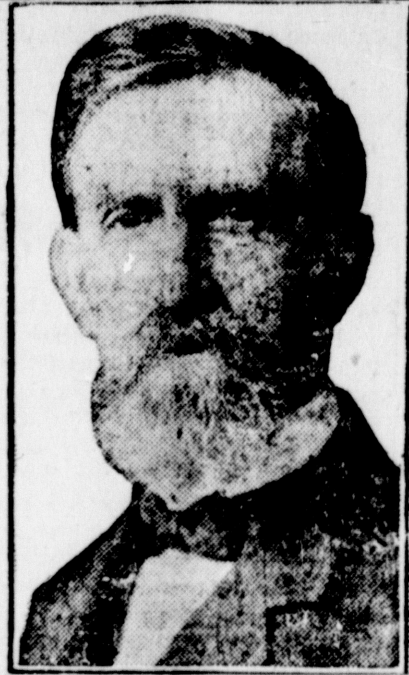

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 10.—For the first time in her history Michigan has elected a governor from the upper peninsula. Charles S. Osborn, Rep., of Sault Ste. Marie, has the honor, and his majority will reach about 40,000. The Republicans elected ten of the twelve congressmen. In the first district Edwin Denby was defeated by Frank Doremus, a progressive Democrat, by about 2500 votes.

A Monster Oil Well.

Markham, Tex., Nov. 10.—The largest oil well in Texas has just been brought in here. It is flowing 5000 barrels of oil per day and marks the opening of a new field of probably large production.

JOHN W. KERN.

BEVERIDGE DEFEATED

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 10.—Returns from Tuesday's election are decidedly more encouraging to the Republicans and there is strong probability that their state ticket is elected by a small majority. The greatest losses to the party were in the populous city districts, and when the vote of the rural sections began to come in there was a gradual change in the positions of the heads of the two tickets until the Republican candidate for secretary of state forged ahead of the Democratic opponent. While the returns may yet be changed, the Democrats are fearful of the result.

The legislature is probably Democratic on joint ballot and John K. Kern will be chosen to succeed Beveridge in the United States senate. The Democrats will control both branches of the legislature.

The Sixth congressional district went over into the Democratic column, making the delegation stand 12 to 1 in favor of the Democrats. The Tenth district, represented by E. D. Crumpacker, is the only district saved from the wreck.

DEMOCRATS HAVE 52 MAJORITY IN HOUSE

Made Heavy Gains in Congressmen in East.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Complete returns on the election of representatives in congress indicate that the Democrats will have a working majority of sixty in the next house.

The number of Democrats elected to congress, according to the latest returns, is 221. The Republican representation will be 169, or five seats less than the Democrats now have in the Sixty-first congress.

The Democrats will have a clear working majority in the house and the Republicans will barely control the senate. If the progressive Republicans vote with the Democrats the control of the senate in the next congress also is lost to the Republican party. Then President Taft may have both houses to contend with instead of to help him with his administration program.

Another notable fact in connection with the next house will be the presence for the first time of a Socialist congressman, Victor L. Berger, from the Fifth Wisconsin district (Milwaukee).

The greatest gain in any one state was in New York, where the present delegation of twelve Democrats was increased by ten, making the division as to New York in the next house 22 Democrats and 15 Republicans. The representation from New York in the Sixty-first congress is 25 Republicans and 12 Democrats.

The next largest increase was in Illinois, where the Democrats on the face of the returns made six gains.

In Pennsylvania the Democratic gains were 5, New Jersey 4, Ohio 4, North Carolina 2, West Virginia 2, Missouri 2, Maryland 2, Maine 2, previously elected, and one each in Connecticut, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Oklahoma and Rhode Island.

Republican Governor For Nebraska.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 10.—Thirty complete counties on United States senator give Hitchcock, Dem., 57,127; Burkett, Rep., 44,806. This is less than half the complete state vote, and indicates the defeat of Burke by 15,000 to 20,000. Aldrich, Republican, is elected governor by a majority approximating 25,000.

Local Optionist Wins In Alabama.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 10.—Later returns show that Emmet O'Neal, Democratic local optionist, was elected governor over J. O. Thompson, Republican prohibitionist, by over 20,000 majority. A solid Democratic delegation to congress from this state has been re-elected.

TAFT SORELY DISAPPOINTED

Will Push Reforms at Short Session of Congress.

STARTS FOR PANAMA

President Plans to Crowd as Much Progressive Legislation Through Short Session of Congress as Possible.

Washington, Nov. 10.—President Taft left here for Charleston, S. C., where he will board the cruiser Tennessee for the trip to Panama. Mr. Taft will be away about two weeks. His trip is one strictly of business, and he will make a complete study of the situation on the isthmus upon which to base recommendations to congress at the coming session.

Disappointed as is the president at the loss of the house of representatives to the Democrats, his political advisers are pinning their hopes to the fact that a three months' session of the present Republican majority in both branches of congress is about to begin. It is known that into that brief period the administration intends to crowd as much of its legislative program as there seems to be the remotest chance of enacting.

Much of the proposed legislation which will be urged upon congress in the president's forthcoming message will be of a progressive character, and it is said in Washington that the prospects are excellent for harmony in the Republican ranks. An effort will be made in the short session to pass as much progressive legislation as possible because of the effect such measures would have upon the fortunes of the present administration two years hence.

Interesting as promise to be the events of the short session, the assembling of the new congress and its conduct with a Democratic house and a Republican senate, serving under a Republican president, will attract far wider attention.

The first session of the new congress, which will convene in a little more than a year hence, is practically committed to an effort at tariff revision by reason of the election results.

All through the special tariff session at which was passed the Payne Aldrich bill the Democratic minority contended that insufficient effort was being made to revise the tariff downward. On this question and the high cost of living, for which the Democrats generally held cost of necessities to be responsible, the Republican majority of the house was overturned.

Many of the insurgent Republicans who have been returned to the next house hold the same views, and even administration speakers, including the president, have expressed willingness to heed what seemed to be a general demand for the reopening of certain schedules.

The important question that is being asked, therefore, is what will be done about the tariff when the hybrid congress convenes and it becomes necessary to reconcile differences between chambers of opposite political faiths.

Such a situation is not without precedent, but in the past little attempt was made to pass more than the necessary appropriation bills and such measures as were necessary for the continuation of the government.

It is not believed that the Democrats will care to undertake to force tariff revision under a Republican president. Yet tariff measures must originate in the house, and inasmuch as the Democrats will be in control of that branch and in charge of all of its committees, it would appear that the taking of the initiative could not be evaded.

No member of the present Republican majority is in better position to view with complacency his party's loss of power in the house than Speaker Cannon. The issue of whether he is to be re-elected speaker is dead. Some of his staunchest friends went down to defeat partly because they had remained steadfast, but on the other hand, some also of those who deserted him lost their places.

Operation For Senator Elkins.

Elkins, W. Va., Nov. 10.—Comfortably placed in the private car of President Willard, of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, Senator Stephen B. Elkins was taken to Washington. He was accompanied by Dr. Golden, his family physician. Senator Elkins has not improved during the past few weeks, as his family expected, and it was the desire of his doctors that he be nearer the hospitals of Washington and Baltimore should an operation become a necessity. It is said here that the mysterious disease from which he is suffering is something more than mere exhaustion and an operation may be necessary to remove the pus said to have formed recently and which is giving him great pain at times.

Falls Fatal to Girl.

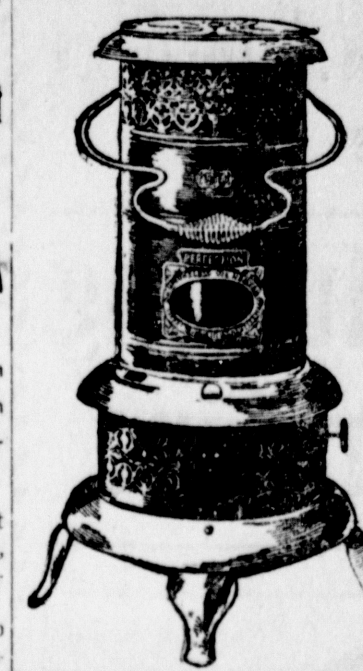

Lancaster, Pa., Nov. 10.—Returning to her home after a dance, shortly before midnight, Miss Viola M. Spicher, nineteen years old, discarded her ball dress, which she threw on the floor before retiring to bed. A piece of lace struck the gas jet and turned on the burner full head. The girl's body was found by members of her family, asphyxiation having occurred during the night.

People Who Work Indoors With Their Hands

Seamstresses, watch-makers, artists, draughtsmen, and many others, cannot properly handle their tools with cold, stiff hands. Many a lost hour or two on cold winter mornings results from the delayed heat of furnace or stove.

The Perfection Oil Heater in a few minutes gives the temperature that assures the worker warm hands and pliable muscles. The quickly gives heat, and with one filling of the font burns steadily for nine hours, without smoke or smell. Has automatic-locking flame spreader which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so the wick can be quickly cleaned.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

It has a damper top and a cool handle. Indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler-cap does not need to be screwed down; it is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain, and cannot get lost.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for reworking. The Perfection is finished in Japan or nickel, is strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

Little Pitchers.
In a certain small town there are two young women whose favorite occupation has been to discuss the affairs of their neighbors. Having met for that purpose one afternoon, they found themselves blocked in the indulgence of their pastime by the presence of the small daughter of the hostess. A slight indisposition of some sort prevented sending the child out of doors, so they were forced to put up with her presence, doing their best, however, to nullify it.
Something eatable was produced and an absorbing new game invented which she could play quite by herself, so they breathed freely and began.
The talk at length reached a point involving the latest scandal of the neighborhood and the retelling of some inside information which must not become public property. A hurried look at the child on the floor found her apparently so occupied with her game that it seemed quite safe to go on if one observed a decent discretion. Voices were accordingly lowered and direct allusion veiled, but when the matter had been thrashed out to their satisfaction the child raised her eyes and remarked with deliberation and emphasis:
"I hear, I know, I understand, and I'll blab!"—New York Times.

The beloved of the Almighty are the rich who have the humility of the poor and the poor who have the magnanimity of the rich.—Sandi.

A NERVOUS WRECK

"My daughter is rapidly becoming a nervous wreck," said an anxious father to a friend who happened to be a druggist. "She has no appetite, is run down, weak, takes no interest in anything, and we cannot find anything that helps her."

"Why don't you give her Vinol?"—said the druggist—"It is not a secret nostrum, just a simple and delicious cod liver and iron tonic—and the best strength creator and general all round tonic we have ever sold in our store. Take a bottle home and try it. We'll return your money if it does not help her."

Within ten days the father came back for another bottle of Vinol, saying that he had never seen such a change in a girl in his life, and he felt sure one more bottle of Vinol would restore her to her normal condition.

Such cases as the above are constantly coming to our attention, and we ask every run down, nervous, debilitated, aged or weak person in this vicinity, and every person suffering from a chronic cough, cold, or bronchial trouble, to try a bottle of Vinol on the same terms as above. AN INGENIOUS SMUGGLER

By SAMUEL E. BRANT

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

"These cases of rich people returning from Europe," I said to a New York customs inspector, "must interest you greatly."

"Not for their ingenuity," he replied. "These millionaires are very stupid in their devices for concealing dutiable goods. Our most interesting cases are the professionals, who are familiar with the old dodges and constantly inventing new ones."

"A few years ago I was cabled from Southampton by a confederate detective that a regular smuggler named Keisner—at least that was one of his names—had gone aboard a liner with a large number of diamonds."

"On the day the steamer arrived I was on the dock, and there was Keisner coming down the gangplank looking as innocent as a three-year-old child. Usually there is an intent look in a smuggler's eye which if carefully scrutinized betrays him. But Keisner did not look worried a bit. I had him and his baggage taken into a private room and went through both. I split his boot heels. I combed his hair and beard. An enormous silver watch he wore looked suspicious, for I had known smugglers to have tiny works put in big watches and fill the empty space with jewels. But the watch was genuine. I demolished his cigars."

"In short, there was nothing about him that could be made hollow that I didn't destroy. When I had finished I had found nothing dutiable and had over $40 to pay for demolished property. I was obliged to let the man go through, but I sent a detective to keep him in sight."

"A man shadowed him for two weeks, when he was seen to enter a diamond merchant's shop. When he came out he had sold $20,000 worth of diamonds. The next day he was shadowed to another shop, where he disposed of as much more, and so on at intervals until he had got rid of $100,000 worth of stones."

"Mind you, I wasn't shadowing him to get the duty on these stones, for how could I prove they were smuggled? My object was to get on to another device in order to scratch it when I met it again and to gratify my curiosity. I will admit that the latter was my principal reason. I sent for Keisner and told him I knew he had smuggled in the diamonds and gave him to understand that I had some proof of the fact. Of course he denied the charge, but I kept up the bluff for some time, then admitted there was some question as to whether the government could convict him. I offered not to prosecute him if he would confess and reveal to me how he had worked his scheme. He fought shy for awhile, then told me that if I would give him a bond of indemnity for himself and any other person or persons concerned with him he would tell me the story. I produced the bond, and he fulfilled his part of the contract."

"As soon as he had engaged his stateroom on the steamer he cabled the number to a confederate in New York. The confederate engaged the room for the return trip abroad. Keisner went aboard on sailing day with the diamonds, carrying in a satchel a bit and brace, a narrow saw and a little paint. He knew what color the paint should be, for he had visited the room before. He bored a hole in the floor out of sight under the berth, where it would not be noticed, inserted his saw, cut out a small section of flooring, put in the diamonds, replaced the section of plank, daubed the edges with the paint, and the property was safely hidden."

"When he came ashore there was no occasion for him to betray excitement, for he had no diamonds in his possession. He had left them on the ship. No wonder that he looked unconcerned while we were searching property that might contain them. Indeed, the diamonds remained where he had hidden them till the day the vessel sailed on her return trip.
"Shortly before she pulled out of the dock Keisner's confederate, who had engaged the stateroom where the diamonds were hidden, went to the room with his wife and daughters, who were there to see him off, took up the section of flooring, secured the stones and distributed them among the members of his family. Then when the ship was about to cast off they went ashore, bidding him goodbye with tears in their eyes, and stood waving to him from the dock until he was out of sight."

"Now, wasn't this a pretty dish to set before the collector?"

"The confederate was obliged to go across. He took the next steamer back and the day after he landed turned the jewels over to Keisner, who sold them and divided the profits."

The inspector paused, lighted a cigar I gave him in lieu of remuneration for his story and remarked:

"No; the efforts of these amateur smugglers among the millionaires does not interest us customs men; it's too dead easy to get on to their schemes. The women do it all, and although a woman may be tricky in some ways she isn't in others. She can't lay any such deep plan as that originated by Keisner. Without taking their husbands into their confidence they get up some old time device that we've long been on to, get caught, of course, and their husbands have to stand in the gap."
